1. Outline of the Service

The Account Statement is a notification of an individual’s defined contribution pension assets set forth in the Defined Contribution Pension Act. Such notification is classified as a legally required form, and is in principle provided to our participants once a year. We have decided to start providing an English version in response to increased demand from our participants using our English services.

2. Timing of Release

Starting from the account statement for December 2016 (data as of the end of November 2016), the English version will be released.

Participants using the English service will receive with the Japanese version of the Account Statement.

We have been continuously working to improve our customer service, releasing the full-color Account Statement in Japanese and have received positive feedback. Now, we are ready to provide the English version which is clear and easy to understand.

Clients have our commitment to continually improving service.
